WHERE IS BUSINESS CENTER OF CITY? NOW—TOMORROW

Number of Local People Give Viewpoints on Questions; What Have YOU to Say?

"Where is the business center of Glendale and where is it going to be a few years from now?"

This question was asked a number of business men in different sections of Glendale and the answers made to a representative of The Glendale Evening News are indicative that the business center is located, or going to be, anywhere on Brand boulevard from the San Fernando road to the mountain, or anywhere on Broadway from Central avenue to Adams street.

The following business men of Glendale gave their views on the question:

FRANK P. WILKIN, 123 South Central avenue—"The business center of Glendale right now is located around the intersection of Brand boulevard and Broadway, but the second best retail center of the city is going to be at West Broadway and Central avenue. If you could see the large number of people who pass this way every morning and evening going to and from work you would realize this is going to be a busy center when a few business houses are built here, and there is much planning going on right now for improvements along Central and Broadday. There are more people residing west of Brand boulevard than east and with the addition of a few more stores on West Broadway you will see a great retail center develop right here.

J. C. POLLOCK, 208-210 West Broadway—Of course right now it is a block either way at the intersection of Brand boulevard and Broadway, but there's much activity right along here. I think a big business center will develop at the intersection of the San Fernando road and South Brand.

Reeves will speak on "Glendale, Its Future and Its Needs." There will be time given for questions and discussion, and it is the desire of the president, Mrs. C. E. This meeting will be open to the general public and a special invitation has been extended to the business men of the city to attend.

CARRIES CANE 30 YEARS; BREAKS IT ON CANINES IN DEFENDING CHILDREN

Wilmot Parcher, who was the first mayor of Glendale, carried the same walking stick for thirty years until the other day.

Being a trustee of the Tujunga schools he was called upon to eject three dogs from one of the rooms after a free-for-all fight in which the children were routed, one little girl being painfully bitten.

Mr. Parcher was summoned by the teacher and he broke the cane over the dogs in chasing them away from the grounds. As a result the edict has been sent out to the residents of the district that they keep their dogs at home or arrange for special ambulance service to a canine hospital.

It is said that Mr. Parcher is equipping himelf with a hickory stick that will last thirty years or longer.

Beware, dogs, beware of Tujunga schools.

CHURCH BELL TOLLS AT $1000 GIVEN FOR NEW HOME

Campaign to Raise Funds for Presbyterians Now Under Way; Reports Daily

The campaign to raise funds for the erection of a new Presbyterian church is on in full force this week by two teams of loyal church workers who are stimulated in their canvas by knowledge of the imperative need of more room for the expansion of the institution.

Each time $1000 is pledged, the church bell is pealed. "The Bairds," under the leadership of A. L. Baird, 637 North Orange street, were the first to ring the bell yesterday. Shortly ater the official announcement of the commencement of the campaign, they turned in $1200.

Before "The Browns," captained by H. L. Brown, 406 North Maryland avenue, could collect the pledges from their own workers, "The Bairds" had rung the bell a second time.

Browns Raise $4500

"The Browns" were not to be outdone, however, and while they were eating lunch prepared by women of the church, they raised $4500.

In the Sunday school room of the church have been erected two large wooden thermometers with small electric lights that will indicate the amount of pledges. Each evening this week the workers will meet for dinner at the church.

"I find a very commendable spirit prevailing among the citizens here," he said, "they all seem to be one big family, the Glendale family, and there is, I believe, a great future for the place. I shall locate here if I can find a place and go into the contracting business in which I have had much experience in Philadelphia."

DINNER PARTY IS GIVEN

Mrs. Mary E. Smith and daughter, Beatrice, of Columbus and Maple avenues, entertained with a dinner party at their home Sunday night. Covers were laid for eight. National Convention Is Now Under Way; Noted Men to Appear Upon Program

By THOMAS WRIGLEY
Written for International News Service

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 31.—This city found itself in "occupied territory" today. The invading hosts of the American Legion jammed the "gateway of the west" and the third annual national convention of the legion opened at 8:30 o'clock amidst the greatest assemblage of former service men since the war.

"Meet your old buddie," was the slogan.

"Aid for our disabled comrades" was the chief business.

Distinguished guests who had already arrived were receiving midwest hospitality, an open handed, right-from-the-heart welcome with formality thrust to the background. These included Lieutenant General Baron Jacques, Belgian war hero; General Armando Vittorio Diaz, Italian generalissimo and Vice President Calvin F. Coolidge, who arrived yesterday, and Admiral Earl Beatty, British naval hero; Major General John A. Lejeune, U. S. Marines, and Admiral Robert E. Coontz, U. S. N., who arrived this morning.

To Meet Great Heroes

The greatest welcoming demonstration, however, was not to break forth until late today.

Marshal Foch of France and General John J. Pershing, together with Charles Bertrand of the French chamber of deputies and a delegation of Washington notables will arrive at 5:30 p. m. and the legion then will be "all present or accounted for."

The opening session of the convention was called to order by John G. Emery, national commander. There were 2500 delegates and alternates present on the floor of the convention hall, while the galleries of the

Alex McDougall entertained a group of friends Saturday night with a merry Hallowe'en party at the residence of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas G. McDougall, 128 West Elk avenue. The guests arrived in "ghostly array" with masks that hid their identity. Jack o'lanterns peered at them from all corners of the rooms, adding to the general effect of "spookiness."

They ducked for apples, and made merry with the game "Witches Caldron. The color scheme of yellow predominated in the refreshments of orange ice cream, little cakes iced with yellow and decorated with little Jack o'lantern faces, orange punch and yellow caramels. The invited guests were Marjorie Hart, Wilma Gossard, Beryl Goodale, Frederica Brown, Katherine Bender, Lucile Beach, Alice Hill, Robert Hatch, David Roberts, Arthur Barton, Dallas Kalbaugh, Clifford Walcott, Donald McMillan, Miss Gladys Sharpe, Charlotte and Dan Benjamin. Mrs. McDougall was assisted by her sister, Mrs. H. S. Benjamin.

Four Bungalows and Two Duplex Houses to Be Constructed

In addition to the new community shopping center at Brand and San Fernando boulevards, the plans of which were reported by The Evening News of Saturday, George B. Karr has associated with A. E. Woodmansee for the development of other buildings and properties. Work is being started today on a bungalow court on West Windsor road, near San Fernando, 100 foot frontage, on which will be built four detached four-room bungalows and two four-room duplexes, giving a total of eight apartments with garages on the alley in the rear. The usual lot depth of 180 feet will afford good lawn and yard space for each apartment.

Mr. Woodmansee has just sold the last of four bungalow homes that he built on the southeast corner of Louise and Stocker streets and has purchased the vacant corner opposite for further developments.

'Glendale No City,' Is Arrested Man's Excuse

S. H. Hooper of 1558 Gordon street, Los Angeles, has the mistaken idea that Los Angeles is the only city in Southern California. He turned his motor car around a couple of times in the middle of a block on Broadway, operated his car without a driver's license and was haled into police court therefor by Traffic Officer Walter Trautwein this morning.

"This is no city," he said in excusing his acts.

Incidentally, the city's two traffic officers, Walter Trautwein and Merle Collins, will have no regular hours during the month of November. Motorists had better watch out.

Glendale Train Drags Man Under Trucks; Injuries Not Serious, Report

When A. H. Caldwell endeavored to board a moving Glendale Pacific Electric train at Sixth and Hill streets, Los Angeles, yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, he lost his hold on the forward car, fell and was caught under the trucks of the second car.

Passengers and pedestrians screamed in horror as the heavy train dragged to a stop across the street and Motorman E. R. Vreland, and Conductors T. R. Burt and R. A. Young removed the young man from his precarious position.

Cut and bleeding profusely from lacerations of the face, scalp and arms, he was placed in a passing motor car and rushed to the receiving hospital. This morning it was stated his injuries were not serious.

The accident was unavoidable, according to the police report, the little girl having a Hallowe'en mask on her face which obstructed her view as she stepped in front of Mr. Parker's machine.

C. Kline, a Burbank rancher, was painfully injured Saturday morning when a Burbank car demolished his automobile at the Olive street crossing. His wounds were dressed at the Burbank hospital.

Informal Halloween Dance by Lodge of Elks a Big Success

The informal Halloween and anniversary dance given Saturday night at the local Elks' clubhouse, and which was attended by over 300 members of the antlered herd and their guests, was one of the most jolly affairs given by that organization this season.

The members of the entertainment committee, which includes Joe Bellue, Jack Hearnshaw, Henry Whaley, W. B. Kelley, E. P. Hayward and Robert Jensen, had decorated the large ballroom with festoons of orange and black, which were draped from the center of the ceiling to the large chandeliers and from which were hung imitation pumpkins. The Elks' heads over the various stations were decorated with vari-colored jack-o-lanterns.

Music for dancing was furnished by a five-piece orchestra. During the evening favors of gaily decorated horns, fans, caps, rattles and whistles were distributed among the dancers. Between dances, refreshments of punch and wafers were enjoyed. At 10:30 o'clock the entertainment committee announced intermission and everyone adjourned to the banquet room, where they were served with warm pumpkin pie, cider and apples. Dancing was then resumed, and, after the customary 11 o'clock toast, continued until midnight.

Hat Display Lures Lizzie Across Curb; Bam! 2 Tires Flat

"Let the lady drive."

Four gallant young men climbed into a "flivver" Sunday morning and permitted "somebody's sister" to chauffeur them into Glendale.

All went well until they came to a stop. With her eye on the hat bargains in the Gilbert Millinery window, 123 North Brand boulevard, the young woman just naturally didn't think anything about braking the car as it careened to the curb.

Right over the cement impediment little Lizzie leaped, knocked Findley's ice cream sign out of the way and brought the entire party into a "close-up" with the millinery.

The boys climbed out, ruefully glanced at two flat tires, thought of the damages that might have been done—and went on their way softly saying:

"Some ride, sister."

Friendly Society Gives Party Behalf Children

The members of the Girls' Friendly Society of St. Mark's Episcopal church were hostesses at a Hallowe'en party given in the social hall of the church Saturday night for the children of the Sunday school, who attended attired in some very unusual and clever costumes appropriate for the occasion.

The members of the society, of which Miss Louise Ayala is president and Mrs. E. H. Parker director, had decorated the hall in Hallowe'en motifs and had charge of the program, which included piano numbers by Miss Litch, ghost story by Miss Dorothy Hunt, bobbing for apples and other Hallowe'en games. Refreshments of popcorn, doughnuts, apples and cocoa were served.

WHERE IS BUSINESS CENTER OF CITY? NOW—TOMORROW

Number of Local People Give Viewpoints on Questions; What Have YOU to Say?

There is much building contemplated there now and I look for a big business center to develop there.

G. T. THOMAS, 127 West Broadway—Brand boulevard and Broadway is the center right now, and I look for it to go north. It is hard to find parking space at 6 o'clock any evening on North Brand between Broadway and Wilson avenue.

A. M. YALE, 249 North Brand boulevard—Right now it is Broadway and Brand boulevard. As to where it will be a few years from now, one guess is about as good as another, there being good opportunities in every direction.

ALBERT E. MAIN, 221 North Brand boulevard—The business center is Brand and Broadway, and I think it will be a continuation of North Brand boulevard. I never saw a city in my life that didn't have one long main street, and property values on North Brand are indicative of the business centter continuing along the bouevard.

C. H. THOMPSON, 131 North Brand boulevard—The logical business center is Brand boulevard, and it will continue to be.

WALDO M. WINGER, 142-A East Broadway—The business center of Glendale begins on South Brand boulevard at Harvard street and continues north on Brand and east on Broadway to Maryland avenue, the real business center being on the right hand side.

J. J. DEAKIN, 113 East Broadway—It's one block in each direction from the intersection of Brand boulevard and Broadway, and will probably remain there.

ANTHONY AMBROSINI, 632½ East Broadway—It's right here. Mr. Ambrosini was watching the steam shovel scoop the earth at the north east corner of East Broadway and Glendale avenue. That is, I mean it's going to come back here. It used to be here and it's going to come back. We have everything here for it—transportation, good property and everything.

CHARLES B. GUTHRIE, 103½ South Brand boulevard—It's Broadway and Brand boulevard right now, and it's going to move north to North Brand and Doran street.

W. E. Borthick, 206 West Elk avenue—Broadway and Brand is the business center now, but it's going to move south, extending north and south four blocks from Colorado.

EDWARD D. P. HENNES, with Kelly & Van Arsdol, 106 West Colorado—I think it is Broadway and Brand boulevard now, and it will eventually extend on Brand boulevard from Colorado street to Wilson avenue and west to Central avenue.

Those are some of the expressions. Perhaps YOU have something to say on the subject. If so, write it out and send it to The Glendale Evening News.

George H. Hall Speaks to Theosophical Folk

Glendale lodge of the Theosophical society will open its fall activities tonight at Odd Fellows' hall, with a lecture on "Desire As a Factor in Human Evolution," by George H. Hall of Hollywood. Mr. Hall is a national lecturer for the American Section Theosophical society and the general manager of the Krotona Institute of Theosophy in Hollywood. He presents the teachings of Theosophy from a simple and common sense standpoint. In this lecture he shows how desire is the controlling factor in all human activities and points out how the desire nature can be made to serve the purposes of life and so achieve success and happiness.

HELP FOR DISABLED COMRADES CHIEF AIM OF LEGION

National Convention Is Now Under Way; Noted Men to Appear Upon Program

spacious building were packed with thousands. Every state was represented, while delegates were also present from Hawaii, the Philippines, Alaska and from legion posts in South America, France, England, Canada and Italy.

Reports of Committees

Business began with dispatch as soon as the welcoming addresses and responses were concluded. The morning program was taken up with the reports of Commander Emery and the various national officers and with reports of committees.

The presentation of Vice President Coolidge was also a part of the morning program.

At noon a memorial service was to be held for the late Frederick W. Galbraith, national commander, who lost his life in the service of the legion at Indianapolis, June 9.

The afternoon session was to be devoted largely to addresses by Baron Jacques, General Diaz and Major General Lejeune. Greetings were also to be extended by the official representatives of the American Federation of Labor, Grand Army of the Republic, United Confederate Veterans, Spanish-American War Veterans, British Legion and the Great War Veterans of Canada.

Admirals to Speak

Tonight Admiral Beatty and Admiral Coontz will address the legionnaires at the evening session.

Although there are many matters of important business to be threshed out in the convention before the election of officers and the selection of the next convention city on Wednesday, the final day, a spirited contest was already in progress today between New Orleans and San Francisco for the 1922 meeting. Both cities were prominently mentioned by the delegates.

The New York delegates, the last to arrive this morning and by far the largest single unit in the convention, New York having furnished one-tenth of all the soldiers of the country in the war, announced that it would vote for New Orleans and there was rejoicing in the camp of the southerners.

For the entertainment of the visitors who are expected to total 100,000 by tomorrow the legion flying meet and the western rodeo opened today. Many of the country's most expert pilots are entered in the airplane contests while the greatest broncho busters and riders of the west will take part in the rodeo feats.

The city was a mass of colored bunting, with the flags of the allies fluttering from every pole or draped upon buildings. One hundred and fifty bands blared forth their stirring music along the streets filled by visiting thousands.

And mingling with the crowds were the khaki clad doughboys, looking up their old "buddies," meeting new ones and having the time of their lives.

Midgets to Meet Franklin Team in Final League Game

In order that his athletes might not become "stale" from lack of work, Coach Howard Butterfield of the Glendale high school light-weight football team conducted a strenuous three hours' workout on the local gridiron Saturday morning.

Although they walked over two teams in league contests last week in a rather easy fashion the plucky little 130 pounders are taking no chances on losing the last scheduled game on account of Old Man Overconfidence, who often bawls up the works just when things are beginning to appear rosy.

The midgets will tangle tomorrow afternoon on the local field with the Franklin "underslungs" in the final game of the Central league season, and as the athletic rivalry of the two institutions has been exceptionally keen for the past several years those who witness the brawl are assured of a fast and snappy game. The contest will start at 3:30 o'clock.

Should the local lightweights win, and there is every reason to believe they will, the championship of the circuit will be "chipped in" with the victory and the team will spend the next few weeks making special preparation for entering the playoffs for the southern California title. If Franklin should happen to pull the unexpected, however, and defeat Glendale it will be necessary to stage a post season series to decide which team shall represent the Central league in the championship play.

BAKING BREAD AT 96 YEARS

BILLINGS, Mont.—Mrs. Catherine McGuane, 96 years old, was baking bread Thursday, so a reporter who called to interview her about her recent trip alone from Minneapolis to Billings was forced to wait until a critical moment had passed. Mrs. McGuane is visiting her daughter, Mrs. George O'Donnell. She was born in County Clare, Ireland, and came to America in 1854, when she was 24 years old. She lived for fifty years in Winona, Minn. She is a grandmother to twenty-two persons and a great-grandmother to eighteen. Mrs. McGuane did not approve of suffrage before its advent, but now she believes it the duty of every woman to vote.

TERRORS TAKE TOP PLACE IN ELKS' HOME LEAGUE

E. Z. Bunch Second and Band of Buzzards Split Third With P. D. Q. Tossers

By HOWARD McGILLIS
Sporting Editor The Evening News

The second week of the recently organized House Bowling league of the Glendale Eks' lodge was completed with a bang Friday night when the P. D. Q.'s, after getting away to a poor start the previous week, came back and walloped the fast skidding Wizards three straight games. They are now tied for fourth place in the league standing with the Bambinos, each having a percentage of .500.

The Terrors, under the able leadership of Captain Urich, have performed head and shoulders above the other eight entries in the two matches already played. In last week's match, which was with the Bambinos, they came out on top in two out of three games while bowling under the staggering handicap of 124 pins to each contest. Their total of 911 in a single game still heads the list, it being a record that is rarely bettered by any professional quintet of pin smashers. They head the percentage column with five games won and one lost.

Run at Top Speed

The runner up position is being disputed by the Buzzards and E. Z.'s, each of whom has conquered their opponents in four of the first half dozen games played to date. Both teams are running at top speed and each is confident of landing on the top rung of the per centage ladder within the next few matches. Gilhuly, leadoff man for the Buzzards, has turned in the highest game of the bowlers on these two teams with the respectable score of 192.

The P. D. Q.'s and Bambinos share the honors for fourth place with a 50-50 standing of three games won and three lost. The remaining trio of squads, namely the K. P.'s, Jays and Wizards, are bunched together at the bottom of the heap, the first two named squads having won two and lost four, and the latter winning only one of the six games played.

How They Stand

Following is a record of the correct standing of the various clubs to date:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Terrors	5	1	.833
E. Z.'s	4	2	.667
Buzzards	4	2	.667
P. D. Q.'s	3	3	.500
Bambinos	3	3	.500
Jays	2	4	.333
Wizards	2	4	.333
K. P.'s	2	4	.333

A considerable amount of interest is being taken by the forty members of the league regarding the bowling ball, which has been offered by the Brunswick-Balke company of Los Angeles to the man making the highest individual score for a single game.

Individual Scores

The highest mark to date is that made by "Jimmie" Apffel, "anchor man" of the Jays, his score being 213. The leading bowlers of the other teams are as follows:

Viohl, P. D. Q.'s, 203; Ward, K. P.'s, 209; Huesman, Terrors, 202; Gilhuly, Buzzards, 192; Fortunato, E. Z.'s, 189; Stone, Wizards, 174; Wyckoff, Bambinos, 166.

The matches scheduled for this week, which will be the third series of the seven weeks' tournament, are as follows: Tuesday, Wizards and E. Z.'s; Wednesday, Jays and Bambinos; Thursday, P. D. Q's and Buzzards; Friday, K. P.'s and Terrors.

DINNER PARTY IS ENJOYED

A dinner party was enjoyed Saturday night at 350 Ivy street when Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Hamilton had as their guests, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Wilson of Pasadena, and their son, Vern Wilson, who have recently returned from Wisconsin via auto, and Dr. and Mrs. C. R. Lusby and son, Donald.

MARY PICKFORD IN 'THE LOVE LIGHT' AT GLENDALE

Thrilling Emotional Drama Is Presented; Scenes Laid in Beautiful Italy

Entirely new faces are introduced to the screen in the Mary Pickford production, "The Love Light," which is the attraction at the Glendale theatre again today.

This thrilling emotional drama is laid in Italy and Miss Pickford selected the principal members of her cast while abroad and had them transported to Hollywood, while the other Italian members of the organization were selected in New York and also came to Hollywood especially for this one production.

The cast is one of unusual excellence and every member is especially adapted to the character given them. Miss Pickford was aided in the selection of the cast by her director, Frances Marion, who is also the author of the story.

Raymond Bloomer, Miss Pickford's leading man, although he has played many roles in America, was secured by Miss Pickford in France. Mr. Bloomer has just returned from playing an engagement in one of the leading theatres in Rome.

Pathe News and Urban Movie Chats will conclude the bill.

Tomorrow another of those consistently good Bert Levey vaudeville shows come to the Glendale theatre with Stanley and May Laurel as the headliners. Seats are now being reserved for "The Queen of Sheba" on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

REV. C. M. CRIST IS OVER ILLNESS AND OCCUPIES PULPIT

'Spiritual Highland' Subject of Pastor's Talk Given on Sunday Morning

Rev. Clyde Monroe Crist, 315 North Jackson street, has recovered from his recent illness and occupied his pulpit at the First Methodist Episcopal church yesterday morning, the large audience being inspired by his message on "Spiritual Highlands." The text was taken from a part of Moses' song found in Deuteronomy, thirty-second chapter, thirteenth verse, "He made him ride on the high places of the earth that he might eat the increase of the fields and be made suck honey out of the rock and oil of the flinty rock."

Rev. Crist very aptly illustrated the spiritual Highlands by the vision and thrill one can get here in California by climbing the lofty peaks and catching a glimpse of the rising sun in all its glory and coming face to face with God in contemplation of his wonderful creation as viewed from the mountain heights.

Lead to Spiritual Grandeurs

"These physical grandeurs," said Rev. Crist, "conduce to spiritual grandeurs. When Helen Kellar, that wonderful character, visited California she came under its influence and, although deprived of sight and hearing she sensed its beauty, and in answer to the question, 'What do you think of California?' she replied: 'It is like a smile on the face of God.'

"It is a high and holy privilege to be a Christian and the Christian who has persevered and reached the Highlands that God has provided for all is getting the best out of life. He it is that is riding on the high places of the earth. He it is that is eating honey out of the rock and oil out of the flinty rock. And it is true that any man in any station in life can catch the vision.

Saints Not All Dead

"I will just mention two extremes: An uneducated mechanic who was converted and scaled the heights where he had daily intercourse with God, and the other, England's great statesman, Hon. W. E. Gladstone, who, amid all his manifold duties, found time for prayer, his Bible and an uninterrupted walk with God. My advice and plea to the young people of the church is this: Do not fear to aspire to a holy life. The saints are not all dead. It is possible to live lives of sublime heroism, to do great exploits for God, to live at all times on spiritual Highlands."

A number of new members were received into the church at the morning services, including Dr. and Mrs. Collins, father and mother of Mrs. A. W. Towner. Dr. Collins has been a Methodist pastor in Indiana for forty-six years and has come to Glendale to make this city his permanent home.

They had the privilege of talking over the telephone from St. Louis with friends here. Among the other cities visited were New York, Detroit and others.

MISSIONARY WINGS TOPIC OF SERMON BY REV. EDMONDS

Annual Thank Offering Given by Presbyterians Sunday at Special Services

The annual missionary thank-offering day at the Presbyterian church yesterday was observed by a special sermon by the pastor, Rev. W. E. Edmonds, who used as his text, "And I saw another angel fly in the midst of heaven, having the everlasting gospel to preach unto them that dwell on the earth, and to every nation, and kindred, and tongue, and people." (Rev. 14:6). A resume follows:

"It is to be regretted that texts from Revelation are by so many thought to be outside of every-day living, that Revelation is a closed book. Yes, there are mysteries there, but blessing is promised for those who read it, and we are determined to have that blessing.

"Angels are messengers, ones sent. Now first, what is this angel in the text doing? Flying, intrusted with the everlasting gospel. Not a new gospel. We are living in the days of new gospels—brotherhood, with the Elder Brother left out; the gospel of 'second chance'—all the chance is here in this present life; and there are those who preach the gospel of good-will, leaving Christ out; and the gospel of the Golden Rule, but without Christ there is no such thing. This everlasting gospel is for the whole race, it is the last campaign of world-wide evangelization, and it is a great honor to be entrusted with it.

Flying is Swiftness

"The angel in the text was flying, not sitting in a chair nor walking. Flying means several things: Separation, not of the recluse, but up to the heights of the transfiguration above the fogs and babel sounds of the world. The worldly church never has much to do with the everlasting gospel. And flying means swiftness, strenuousness, as of emergency. We must do quickly. If the church should fail, God has no other substitute plan. There is no place for sitting down to rest. There is indeed a rest remaining for the people of God, but it is on the other side. These are the days to burn out for God, using to the last remnant all the strength you have.

"How are we to cultivate these missionary wings? First, believe the reality of the things you hear about and do not see. Men have gone at their own cost around the world to see the work and have told us, and that it is a good investment. We hear much these days of 'the yellow peril.'

"The Asiatic populations are increasing at high rate. Now this is our business. To Presbyterians has been committed the care of one hundred million souls. Accept your share of the obligation. Another way to cultivate missionary wings is through the prayer calendar. Pray the Lord of the harvest that he will thrust forth laborers; and don't be surprised if they shall be some of your own loved ones—He may put wings on your own child.

Missionary Wings

"We are doing honor these days to great generals and statesmen. But what do we do about Henry Martyn, who went into 'the deep sewer of India?' Has the world ever paid its mighty debt to Livingstone, who, as he went after the soul of Africa, incidentally unlocked vast material wealth.

"How shall we cultivate these missionary wings to fly to the ends of the earth? Through appreciation of what the everlasting gospel can do. A young man arriving on those formerly cannibal islands where Paton did his work, said foolishly, 'There's not much to this.' A native answered him, 'The only thing that prevents your being boiled in this pot is the gospel.'

"Dr. Clark in India, listened to a song from a band of coolies who had been cut-throats and murderers, and wonderously saved. The chief one had been captured and sold as a slave. No master would keep him, he was so wicked. A missionary bought him with hope of saving him. Here he heard that the blood saves. 'Could it cleanse a murderer?' 'Yes.' 'One who killed five men?' 'Yes, all sin.' 'One who killed ten, twenty, thirty?' 'Yes, all manner of sin.' 'I am that man.' His life was transformed.

"Oh for a passion for souls like that of Jesus Christ!"

OTHER NATIONS ARE LOOKING TO U. S. IN LEADERSHIP

Rev. C. M. Calderwood Speaks of Arms Parley, Saying America Has Mission

The subject of Rev. C. M. Calderwood's sermon at the Congregational church yesterday morning was, "The Nation As a Suffering Servant." He took Isaiah's ideal of Isarel as a Suffering Servant and applied it to America's national ideals. He said, in part:

"As we approach the time for the disarmament conference at Washington our thoughts naturally turn to national welfare and international relations. With this in mind I have chosen for our text one from Isaiah 49:6. 'It is too light a thing that thou shouldst be my servant to raise up the tribes of Jacob, and to restore the preserved of Israel: I will also give thee for a light to Gentiles, that thou mayest be my salvation unto the end of the earth.'

"The Old Testament gives us two distinct ideals of national development. Some of the prophets saw one vision of national development and others saw another method by which israel might become great. One vision was that of Israel as a victorious, rich, self-sufficient nation. They thought of a nation independent, with no outside obligations, with no thought for other peoples except as they might be able to force certain standards of justice upon them. those who held this ideal thought of the Messiah as one who as God's agent would, by force, bring about this condition of affairs and that it would be called the Messianic Age. This vision was accepted almost unanimously by the people.

Also Another Vision

"There is quite another vision which is given to us in the latter part of Isaiah with great force and beauty. It is the vision of Isarel as a servant, and the greatest servant on earth. A nation strong, but strong in order to serve. A nation ambitious, but ambitious to help other people. A chosen nation, but chosen to help on God's great purposes for all men; chosen not to be selfish but to serve.

"This is the noblest and loftiest ideal that God has ever placed in the soul of man; this is the ideal of true service. It is not only the ideal of the truly great man, but of the truly great nation. Jesus gathered up this ideal for Israel and it has a wider and deeper meaning for the United States of America today.

"This ideal of Israel as a suffering servant was too high an ideal, too great a conception for the mass of the people at the time of Isaiah. But a little later Jesus saw its greatness, and since his time many individuals who have followed in His footsteps have had the vision to see it. It is too great a conception for many people of today with narrow vision and selfish hearts to see.

Not Good Enough

"Our text tells that God did not want his chosen people, his servant, to hold an ideal that was too light. Their ideal was good, but not good enough. It was too light an ideal to raise up the tribes of Jacob or gather the survivors of Israel. It was an ideal that would not transcend national bounderies. An ideal that was not big enough to take into itself the ends of the earth was too light for the nation that was chosen of God and that should be the ideal servant. It was a good ideal for Israel to strive to be strong, but it was too light an ideal when Israel said that she had no concern for the salvation of other peoples.

"This ideal that God says was too little for Israel has found expression in the last three years in such statements as: 'It is enough for us to attend to our own affairs;' 'We are not interested in the welfare of others;' 'We must not mix in the affairs of Europe;' 'We went into the war to save our skins and not to save Europe.'

"If the ideal of selfish wealth and power was too little for Israel 2400 years ago, is it not too little for us today? I submit; is it not a little ideal for us to think only of ourselves, to be interested only in national wealth and power and to have a small conception of world responsibility when 56,000,000 men were under arms in the recent war, when there were 26,000,000 casualties, when 11,000,000 men were killed and when $221,000,000,000 was spent, when two-thirds of all this was the contribution in men and dollars of other nations, and we benefited by all this sacrifice?

Expects Great Things

"God's message to America is that ideals of our own wealth and power and limited ideals of world responsibility are too little for us. Surely God expects great things of us. God has done great things for us. He has blessed us more abundantly than other nations. We need an ideal that is commensurate with God's blessings and the world's gifts to us.

"If the church of Christ has taken an interest in other peoples in the years past, we in the church should not forsake them now in the hour of their direst need, when they are appealing to us for help and asking us to lead the world in disarmament. It would be an evidence of inconsistency or of moral laxity for us to support foreign missions and then fail to support with all our strength God's ideal of the nation as a servant among the nations. The people of other nations are looking for us to lead the world out of wars to peace; and out of an armed peace to a peace founded on justice, service and brotherhood."

'RUSSELLISM' TOPIC OF ADDRESS BY REV. E. E. FORD

Pastor Denies Second Chance for Sinners; Destiny Both Unalterable, Eternal

"Is Russellism right in promising us a second chance?" was the subject of the Rev. Ernest E. Ford's sermon last night at the Baptist church.

The text was taken from Luke 16:26: "Between us and you there is a great gulf fixed; so that they who would pass from hence to you cannot; neither can they pass to us who would come from hence."

"Russellism" was interpreted by Pastor Ford as offering a second chance before annihilation.

"Russellism came into existence in 1886," declared the Rev. Mr. Ford. "Its founder was Charles Taz Russell. * * * * Pastor Russell claims that he received a special revelation from God telling him all about the future.

"Inside Information?"

"Millions now living will never die" read the signboard of Russellism. Where did they get their inside information? It is an old cry! October, 1914, Pastor Russell set as the date for the end of the world. While many of his followers sold all they possessed, he invested in large corporations.

"Away back in the Garden of Eden Satan said to the woman: 'Thou shalt not surely die' if she disobeyed God and all down through the ages he has ever and always been saying to the children of men that there is no punishment for sin.

"So the cults have as their first article of faith to read the Judgment out of God's universe: 'Do as you have a mind, it will come out all right. There is no hell; no sin; and, if you do die a miserable profligate, God will give you another chance after death and eventually you will land in heaven. So on with the dance!'

"God says: 'The wages of sin is death,' and 'The soul that sinneth, it shall die.' Heaven and hell are tremendous realities. Wherever and whatever heaven may be, no one is an outcast, but he who casts himself out, a spiritual suicide.

"Our gospel teaches that death does not alter character, that character makes destiny and that destiny is unalterable and eternal."

WANTED: SUITABLE NAME

What to name the southwest branch of the Women's Home Missionary society of the First Methodist church is the question confronting members who met for the first time last Friday afternoon, 350 West Ivy street, at the home of Mrs. S. C. Hamilton. Plans were laid out for the coming year and those present stated that they expected to accomplish a great deal. Mrs. A. E. Laas, 317 West Lomita avenue, was chosen leader, Mrs. S. C. Hamilton, secretary, and Mrs. A. H. Faulkner, 332 Ivy street, treasurer.

GROUCH CURED BY INTERNAL BATHS

Mr. Joseph A. Weis, Hotel Vendome, Washington, D. C., writes Tyrrell's Hygienic Institute of New York, as follows:

"On the 15th of June I purchased a 'J. B. L. Cascade.' The results it has produced are simply marvelous.

"For 20 years I used Cathartics, but have used nothing but the Cascade for almost a month. I feel like a new man. I want to be pleasant to everybody. Before I used the Cascade I was a grouch. Did not like anybody and could not be pleasant."

If you bathe internally with the "J. B. L. Cascade," you will find yourself always bright, confident and capable. Poisonous waste in the lower intestine makes us blue, dull, bilious and nervous.

Internal Baths are Nature's own cure for Constipation—just antiseptic warm water properly applied. Drugs force Nature—the "J. B. L. Cascade" gently assists her.

LUTHERAN CHURCH'S REFORMATION DAY IS CELEBRATED

Rev. H. C. Funk Tells About Historic Event and Also Urges Heed to Wisdom

"Reformation Day" was observed yesterday at the Lutheran church with a special sermon by the Rev. H. C. Funk.

Martin Luther nailed the Ninety-Five Theses upon the door of the church at Wittenberg, October 31, 1517—just 404 years ago.

"The Reformation was a religious movement for the Word is the power of God even unto salvation," declared Rev. Funk. "This principle of religious liberty aroused the blood of the nations; it entered even into the life of Cromwell's soldiers; it made "Pilgrim's Progress" the most popular book in England; it stimulated intelligence; appealing directly to the mind and the heart of the individual; it gave consolation to the poor and hope to the heretic by pointing every man to the Bible.

Influence of Church

"The influence of the Lutheran church is acknowledged by all who are well informed. This is easily true when we learn that 81,995,000—one-half of the entire Protestant world belong to her fold.

"A few years ago the Centennial Exposition at Philadelphia exhibited Kaulbach's celebrated painting representing the "Progress of Civiliation." The artist had formed a group of the world's greatest benefactors. In their midst and towering above them all stood the colossal figure of Luther.

"This position the world has given this mighty man of Ged because of the achievement which he has wrought and by which he has lifted up the whole world to a higher plane of life and thought.

"You can't extinguish the flame after a people have once tasted of liberty. It is important then that we take heed lest we abuse liberty and that we give heed to the wisdom of God rather than the suggestions of man. It remains for us to be defenders of the faith for the day in which we live."

ONLY ONE GOD CAN SATISFY HUMAN NEEDS, CLAIM

Rev. Harley G. Preston, in Sermon, Tells of Various New 'Gods' Worshiped

"There are few atheists today. New gods have sprung up. They are called by different names as "Energy,' 'Force' and 'Law.'"

Rev. Harley G. Preston, pastor of the West Glendale Methodist church, made this statement yesterday morning in connection with his sermon upon "The Old Book and the Twentieth Century."

"A purely rationalistic religion is no religion at all. The result is just what it was in ancient times when Paul preached the gospel. The Bible's God and none other can satisfy human needs.

"A hundred years ago Lord Chesterfield was entertained by a woman of distinction, but a bitter foe of Christianity. She inquired why the 'obsolete religion of the Nazarene' was still maintained as the state religion in England. He answered: 'Madame, this is a mere temporary makeshift; we are casting about for something better and when that is discovered the Bible and Christianity must go.'

Hasn't Found It Yet

"The world has been casting about for centuries for something better, but has not found it yet.

"Napoleon said when in exile: 'Caesar, Alexander and I dreamed of universal empire. Where are they? I shall soon be forgotten.' But Jesus died 1800 centuries after founding an empire of love and at this hour millions of men would die for Him.

"The Old Book stands like Eddystone Lighthouse despite all swirling tides and buffeting storms, casting a steady light over the broad seas. Over it floats the banner of the Cross."

At the evening service Rev. Preston took as the topic of his sermon, "The Branded Conscience."

"A man may be born without sight, hearing, speech, armless and legless," said Rev. Preston, "but never without conscience. All other lights are quenched but the candle of the Lord burns on. Conscience, like the pole star, is guide for all.

God Alone Can Do It

"The saddest of all crimes is the deadening of conscience, when a man prepares himself to do all manner of evil.

"When your watch gets out of order, you don't repair it yourself, but take it to a watchmaker. God made your conscience. God alone can repair it.

"Scripture is the only correct magnet for the conscience. The most flagrant crimes have been committed through disordered conscience. Sincerity makes a disordered conscience all the worse. The struggle goes on within until we know our own weakness and the strength of God."

'AVE MARIA' HISTORY IS OUTLINED BY FATHER O'NEILL

Mary 'Blessed Above Women,' Says Pastor in Sermon at Catholic Church

The history of the "Ave Maria" was outlined yesterday by the Rev. Father James S. O'Neill at the second sermon in the new Holy Family Catholic church.

"'Hail full of Grace, the Lord is with thee,' is the most celebrated prayer that the church addresses to the Blessed Virgin Mary," declared Father O'Neill. "The title is taken from the words with which it begins. It is also called the Angelical Salutation.

"Mary has been translated as meaning 'Star of the Sea' because, like a bright star, she guides us through the dangerous sea of this life by the example of her shining virtues and by her motherly prayers. The Lord was with Mary in a more intimate, more perfect and divine way than with any other creature. He had His being, both human and divine with her and for this alone she should be elevated above all other creatures by Christians.

Blessed for Generations

"Both the angel and St. Elizabeth called her 'Blessed above women' and so has she been blessed by all generations for nearly 2000 years.

"We are far from praying unto Mary any of the honor due to God alone. To consider her as having the power or divinity of God would be blasphemous. But we do know that she is a high saint in heaven, and, because she was free from sin, will lift her pure heart in prayer for those for whom her dear son gave up his life. As she stood by His cross till the bitter end, we can hope that she will be near us in our last agony and that the prayers of the Mother of Sorrows will sound for us when we feel our lips unworthy to speak the name of the Holy Trinity."

Married Man Is Accused

Charged with transporting Lillian Sackett, 18, from Salt Lake City to Los Angeles in an automobile, Edward Covey, 36, said to have a wife in the Utah city, was arrested in Los Angeles on a charge of violating the Mann act. The Sackett girl was placed in charge of the city mothers' bureau.

Bold Thief In Pasadena

Some bold daylight thief obtained about $1000 worth of jewelry in the robbery of two adjoining apartments in Pasadena Sunday. In each case he obtained entrance, during the absence of the family, by use of a pass key on the back door.

Malibu Fires Extinguished

After a strenuous forty-eight hour battle, every forest fire in the Malibu district has been extinguished, according to a report made to County Forester Stuart Flintham by Assistant Forester O. M. Thurston upon his return to Los Angeles.

Big Fire Mostly Smoke

Loss estimated at $12,000 was suffered by the city of Los Angeles yesterday afternoon when about half of the stock of poles kept in the pole yard at the bureau of light and water, at Jefferson and Alameda streets, were burned. Origin of the fire was not determined. Specially treated with creosote as a preservative, the burning timber sent heavy clouds of black smoke high into the air, and thousands of persons flocked to the scene.

ATTEMPT TO ROB GARAGE

B. G. Jackson of 1600 South San Fernando road reports to the police that an effort was made to rob his garage and oil station early Sunday morning. A nearby resident saw the attempt from his sleeping quarters and yelled at the thief, who fled.

John Shudley of 907 East Lomita parked his bicycle near the First Methodist church at Kenwood street and Wilson avenue Sunday night. After the services it was gone.

MEETING OF LYDIA CLASS

The regular business and social meeting of the Lydia class of the Presbyterian church, taught by Mrs. J. R. Baker, is being held this afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. G. Boyd, 326 North Jackson street. A social hour is on the program to follow the regular business meeting of the class, during which contests of a Halloween nature are in order. The home is beautifully decorated in Halloween colors for the occasion.

OUR MISTAKE, MR. KIEFER

In Friday's issue of The Glendale Evening News it was inadvertently stated in the headline that Dru Nicoles, head of the American Legion here, would be chairman of the Armistice Day program arrangements. This was correct except for the fact that Mr. Nicoles was formerly head of the Legion, the post commander now being Emil O. Kiefer.

WHICH WAS ABOUT WHAT?

The Roscoe correspondent in the Burbank Review writes: "Because two items of news was passed to us in one breath as it were, last week, we got the two blended into one and probably made an amusing item of reading for the parties concerned. Please hand in items single-barreled, we can handle them better."

A book of scriptural readings in no fewer than 543 tongues and dialects has been prepared by the British and Foreign Bible society.

Gertrude Washburn, Alice Hamond Farish Entertain at Studio

Miss Gertrude Washburn in a variety of rapid-change costume monologues and Mrs. Alice Hamond Farish as soloist were the drawing cards of the Saturday night recital at the Dramatic Art Studio. Miss Washburn, who specializes in child and comedy monologues, interpreted her characters in a most artistic manner characteristic of her sparkling, vivacious temperament.

Her first number was a little "Hello to You People" of smiling introduction, which brought almost an audible response from her hearers. "Her First Club Meeting" pictured very cleverly the society lady in her first encounter with parliamentary rules. As "The Old Maid" sedately attired in black silk shawl, old-fashioned bonnet and silk mitts, Miss Washburn humorously or pathetically, as the tale required, related the many and varied appointments and disappointments of the "Lady of 42."

"Down With the Men" brought out the artist as a militant young woman of pronounced suffragette type, whose flashing, spectacled black eyes would strike terror to the heart of any mere man. A checkered apron and a sunbonnet—and out steps the "Rag Doll," who tells a sad, little story of doll love and jealousy, smiles and tears. The last number, "Mrs. Pat and the Law" (Mary Aldis), was a typical Irish picture of the sort of love which survives washtubs and scars for the sake of a little bit of blarney.

Mrs. Alice Hamond Farish, whose qualities of voice and personality blend in a manner to produce the effect of a "day in June," of love for her art and humanity, charmed her hearers with the "Robin Song" (Howard White), followed by "Miss Mary" (Neidlinger), and "Until" (Sanderson). Miss Dorothy Wright, the Studio dancing teacher, acted as pianist.

Following the program, a social exchange and refreshments were enjoyed by all. Miss Edith Addison, hostess for the evening, carried out a very pleasing decorative scheme, utilizing yellow chrysanthemums and Halloween favors.

Building Activities Steadily Growing in Angelus Park Tract

According to reports by Gilbert Fay, in charge of the Angelus Park tract office for the realty firm of Rigali & Veselich, Los Angeles, the building activity in the tract is increasing steadily, there now being several new houses under way on lots recently purchased. The following purchases and construction work are reported by Mr. Fay:

Frank Erwood, Edendale, a stucco bungalow on Boyce street.

Frank Landreth, Glendale, 74 feet on Boyce for a bungalow court.

C. Carle, a $5000 bungalow on Boyce street.

Carl Johnson of Phoenix, two lots on Seneca on which building operations have been started.

John Sawyer, lot on Revere.

C. B. Holmes, three lots on Boyce.

C. Schwab, a lot on Seneca, construction work already begun on a modern bungalow.

H. C. Hansen, a lot on Boyce.

J. Bailey, a lot on Revere, construction now under way on a home.

Mr. Fay has completed a garage on his lot on Boyce street and will soon begin constructing a modern five-room house.

"The tendency to purchase property for building homes continues," said Mr. Fay, "and it is a sure indication that the Angelus Park tract will be settled within a short time by desirable families."

REPORTS PROPERTY HURT

Police investigation is being made following the report made to the department by C. N. Cordary of 404 West Milford street, who, upon leaving the house this morning, discovered that black ink had been applied to the front door and walls of his residence, which is painted an ivory color. The white stucco house of his neighbor was also decorated in a similar manner. Officer McLean, of the police department, is conducting an investigation.

BROOKS ENTERTAIN GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Carpenter of Spokane, Wash., were the Sunday guests of their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Brooks of the Reliable Shoe Store, which is soon to be opened at 120 West Broadway. Mr. Carpenter has held a government position in Spokane for several years, but is very anxious to locate in California. Because of the scarcity of houses in Glendale he has temporarily rented a place in Los Angeles.

BOY HURT IN COLLISION

Little Clyde Gardiner of Tujunga is confined in a Glendale hospital with a broken leg and bumped head. He was coasting on the state highway near his home with a chum and lost control of his speed wagon. Getting on the wrong side of the road, he hit one of the Richardson Transportation company's busses. The collision nearly killed Clyde, but the other boy escaped uninjured.

STADIUM SEATS ON SALE

The Tournament of Roses stadium at Pasadena proved the principal topic of conversation at the first fall luncheon of the Pasadena Chamber of Commerce, according to James M. Rhoades, who attended from here. Seats in this new amphitheatre are being sold for five years at $50 plus $5 war tax and $110 for ten years, which admits the owner to all functions held there. Application for these seats may be made at the local Chamber headquarters.

'DANGEROUS CURVE AHEAD' PLEASES AT T. D. & L.

Last Times Today for Rupert Hughes' Story; Harvey's Minstrels Tomorrow

Patrons of the T. D. & L. theatre will have a chance to see the old truism of "The first five years are the hardest," portrayed in reel life, which is an actual reflection of real life, in the Goldwyn picture, "Dangerous Curve Ahead," by Rupert Hughes, which shows for the last times today.

This original screen story by one of America's best known novelists lets the observer share the joys and the troubles of a typical young American married couple, as well as see how they meet them. The story begins with the marriage, then details the daily differences that result in the usual family squabbles. Later on, when the children come, and the family fortunes improve, the kind of troubles change.

Minstrels Tuesday

People who have visited the Haggenbeck-Wallace shows the past three years will remember the novelty act presented by the dark-skinned "Australian Waites," known among the public as the "Australian Whip-Crackers" and were the one act that the people talked about after the show. This act has been secured by Manager Harvey for his Greater Minstrels which will be at the T. D. & L. theatre Tuesday, November 1, matinee and night.

The remarkable work done by these peculiar people is almost beyond description; coming as they do from a tribe of "head hunters," they acquired their talent in the wilds of Africa and Australia. This act is one of many which will be presented by Mr. Harvey in what he calls, "the only show of its kind in the world."

Seats can now be reserved at the box office. There will be an attractive street parade Tuesday noon with the minstrles in full uniform.

Although blind, a Canadian ex-soldier recently passed the Canadian civil service examination for employment as a shorthand clerk.

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Druggist Says Ladies Are Using Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taikng one small strand at a time. By morning the gray disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss anad lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.—Advertisement.

Watching Kennedy Case
How Would You Answer?
War Cars for Highways
Respect for Officers

By Gil A. Cowan

THE Kennedy murder case comes before a Los Angeles court for trial this week. More than usual interest is displayed in this quadrangle drama. It equals anything ever written.

It is not the details of the slaying in which the public now is interested. It is not the solution of the mystery. But everyone wonders what is going to happen—

First—Will the woman, Madalynne Obenchain, be freed?

Second—Will she turn on her platonic friend, Arthur Burch, and by her evidence convict him of a crime which has baffled investigating officers?

Third—Will a reconciliation be effected between the divorced Obenchain and his wife?

From out of the halls of Northwestern university near Chicago has come this drama of love, religion, murder, trial and—there the story hangs today.

Obenchain, brilliant altruist of a lawyer, who wooed and won the beautiful and educated Madalynne, will arise in her defense tomorrow, backed by the best of legal counsel in such matters.

Burch, minister's son and platonic friend, awaits the wheel of fate to deal with him more kindly. He proclaims his innocence in the face of overwhelming circumstantial evidence, purported confession and other odds.

The Denton case was ordinary compared with the one which interests you today. The hunt for a policeman's slayer, the mystery in death of a former bunko man, or the shooting of a real estate man is soon forgotten, but this story will be different.

Novelists, scenario writers, the newspapers of the nation—all are intensely interested. Never before in American court annals has a greater combination of education, adulation and mystification entered into a case.

It is a story devoid of sordid features, other than the actual crime of shooting a man in cold blood. It has all of the elements which make it if general interest. All will watch what happens.

Chambers of Commerce, railway depots and other public or semi-public institutions consider themselves centers for all of the information available, but a newspaper office probably serves the people more, not alone through its columns but over the counter and telephone.

Week days, Sundays, holidays, from early morning until late at night it is one continuous round of questions and answers.

"Where can I get a car for Los Angeles?" is one of the most frequent queries from persons coming into this office.

"How do I get to Tujunga (or Pasadena or Burbank, as the case may be) by motorcar?" propounded equally as often.

"Who has a house to rent?" some mother asks as she brings the family along into the office.

"What time is it?" comes the voice over the telephone 100 and more times daily—usually just before school hours.

"What are the football scores?" are regular Saturday afternoon calls in the fall. In the summer it is baseball and on holidays the telephones tell who won the auto races.

In the olden days the newspaper offices used to settle any number of barroom bets and every once in a while there is an indication that somebody in Glendale has been testing the argumentative qualities of home brew.

One proud parent rushed into The Glendale Evening News office the other day.

"Where can I get goat's milk for the baby?" he asked.

"Who kills cats?" "Where can I get a corn doctor?" "Who sells regulation garbage cans?" "Where can I get a check cashed?" "Do you know Bill Smith from Corn City, Kan?" "Who has a rowboat?"

That's a good sample of the variety of information people ask of The Glendale Evening News. And in a majority of instances they get it, too!

It is announced by the United States department of agriculture that virtually all the surplus motor vehicles turned over by the war department for distribution among the various states for road building purposes have reached their destination through the bureau of public roads, something like 22,577 trucks and touring cars having been put into a practical peace-time service.

Of this number California is credited with having received 690, a comparatively small apportionment considering the vast amount of road building and many miles of highways here. However, it is to be presumed that Georgia, Texas, Ohio, Kansas, Missouri, Pennsylvania, New York and Illinois needed them the most.

What would prove more interesting is a report on the automobiles left in France. Thousands of them were left in the fields at A. E. F. supply bases, according to the boys who returned from "over there." What is more, war contracts still are being carried out by the government, it is said. At auctions recently held army and navy supply stores have purchased goods from the quartermaster's department at one-third the cost of manufacture.

Officers of the Glendale police department are now appearing in the blue uniforms of the winter season. Those appearing yesterday afternoon at San Fernando road, Los Feliz road and Brand boulevard were particularly magnificent as they directed traffic.

Neat and natty, imposing and snappy, the policeman does more to make for law and order than all of the threats of impositions of a court. Respect, rather than fear is to be sought by the representatives of a democracy.

THEATRE AND STORE AT TUJUNGA TO COST $10,000

Jergen Plant at Burbank Is Busy; Other News Briefs From Nearby Towns

Dr. W. H. Twining, who has made several previous investments in Tujunga real estate and who is one of the most enthusiastic believers in the future of the town, has bought a lot at the northwest corner of Sunset and Monte Vista boulevard and is planning to erect a two-story brick building 50 by 132 feet at a cost of $10,000. It will provide a motion picture theatre and a store on the ground floor and offices and other rooms above.

Soap Factory Employs 40

The Jergen Soap Works at Burbank is now running regularly and almost to capacity. They now have 40 employees on their pay roll and have begun shipping their product. The western factory will add to its line in the near future many toilet articles which will call for greater enlargement of equipment.

Tujungans Disfavor City

Residents of Tujunga who believe that the time to incorporate a city of the sixth class has arrived were distinctly in the minority at the special meeting called last week to discuss the subject, if the number of speakers and weight of applause are to be taken as evidence of respective strength, for no vote was taken.

Addition to Church

The growth of the First Christian church of Burbank has necessitated increased facilities and last week work was begun on an addition 20 by 40, on the north side of the present church building. It will be used as a Sunday school room and for social affairs.

Grapes Prove Unprofitable

Grape picking in Tujunga is practically finished but neither the crop nor the price was as good as last year. Philip Begue says that neither the hot days nor the rain would have done much damage alone, but both together were ruinous.

Opening Store in Burbank

H. B. Wolfe and Rea Marshall, the former from San Rafael and the latter from Glendale, are fitting out the store next door to the Federal building in Burbank and will open about the first of November, a full line of building material.
